THE UNFORTUNATE.

[illegible], NEW REMEDIES

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, [illegible] Established in 1854, [illegible] treatment of Sexual and [illegible] Diseases, such as Gonor[illegible] Stricture, Syphilis in [illegible] forms, Seminal Weakness, [illegible] etc. Skin Diseases (of [illegible]ding) and Ulcerated Legs [illegible]ly treated.

Horrible Diseases.

[illegible]any thousands of persons, both male and fe[illegible] there who are suffering out a miserable exist[illegible] the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus into the system. Look at their pallid, [illegible] disfigured faces and their broken-down [illegible] qualifying them for the happiness of marriage [illegible] of life. In this horrid situation the[illegible] until death closes the scene. Let parents, [illegible] friends, attend to those who are suffering with [illegible] horrible life-destroying maladies—see that [illegible] cared for and cured before it be too late. Send [illegible] immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has [illegible] his especial study for years, and who [illegible] cured the most inveterate cases without mer[illegible] injurious drugs. It is important to those afflicted, or to those who are interested in the [illegible] their friends, to be careful of the many pre[illegible]ters who infest all cities, publishing their skill [illegible] all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the [illegible] using the names of eminent physicians [illegible] and other places. Be therefore careful and [illegible] try, or you may fall into the h[illegible] of these [illegible]

Seminal Weakness.

[illegible] ions, the consequence of self-abuse. This [illegible], or depraved sexual indulgence, is practis[illegible] [illegible]th of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, [illegible], with unerring certainty, the following train [illegible] symptoms, unless combatted by scientific med[illegible] [illegible]res, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under [illegible] pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like [illegible] rattling of chariots, [illegible] loins, weak[illegible] of the limbs, confused vision, [illegible] intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in ap[illegible] [illegible] to form new acquaintances [illegible] to sleep [illegible] daily, loss of memory, [illegible] pimples and various eruptions about the face, [illegible] fetid breath, coughs, consumption, [illegible] and frequent insanity. If relief be [illegible] should apply immediately, either in [illegible] and have a cure effected by his new and [illegible] this disease, which [illegible] Dr. G will give One [illegible] Dollars to any person who will prove [illegible] that he was cured of this complaint by [illegible] quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

[illegible] contemplate marriage, who are [illegible] of those fearful maladies, should not forget the [illegible] resting upon them not delay to [illegible] relief. [illegible] GIBBON [illegible] and will give to each [illegible] binding [illegible] [illegible] or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

[illegible] may be CURED AT HOME, [illegible] to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symp[illegible] of time the [illegible] has continued, and have [illegible] forwarded, free from [illegible] part of the country, with full and plain [illegible] use, for Ten Dollars, [illegible] Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

[illegible] the San Francisco quacks and pretenders [illegible] to certificates, dupe the [illegible] where notices are to be [illegible] daily and weekly newspapers of San Fran[illegible] other places, are tradesmen, and [illegible] at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoe[illegible] intelligence office [illegible] over the San Francisco Directory, and you [illegible] Medical Institutes in it, but you will [illegible] Look at the Direc[illegible] 1868. The only way to avoid [illegible] it will cost you nothing, and [illegible] for, as advertising physi[illegible] out of ten, are bogus, there is no [illegible] any of them until you know who and [illegible] Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by [illegible] other certificates, praise of patients [illegible] will satisfy persons who may [illegible] of his ability to treat diseases that he [illegible]

SIXTH INDUSTRIAL EXHIBITION OF THE
Mechanics' Institute,
SAN FRANCISCO.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE MECHANics' Institute hereby give notice that the Sixth Industrial Exhibition of that Association will be held some time in August next, in a building to be erected for the purpose in Union Square in this city. Every preparation will be made to accommodate exhibitors and visitors with a view to make the Exhibition profitable, instructive and pleasant to all parties.

During the three years which have intervened since the holding of the last Exhibition in this city the manufacturing, mechanical, scientific and useful and ornamental arts have made unprecedented progress on this coast, and it is believed that the proposed Exhibition will exceed any other in value that has ever been held on the shores of the Pacific.

The plan of building to be erected, which has been adopted by the Board of Directors, it is believed will prove to be the best adapted for display and convenience of the public of any building ever erected in the State. The building will be perfectly water tight, being covered with a shingle roof, so that no damage from the elements can be anticipated.

All parties who are interested in any of the branches of Manufactures, Mechanics, or the Arts and Sciences are invited to exhibit in the proposed Exhibition and to share in the publicity and [illegible] which always attends such enterprises. Suitable premiums will be offered, and the specific date of opening the Exhibition will be published at some future time.

By order of the Board [illegible]

Address from an Irishman to his Countrymen

PORTLAND, May 25th, 1868.

As it is a matter of grave importance to Irishmen the record their votes in the Union Republican ranks at the coming election, I will address them a few remarks with a view to impress upon them the duty which we owe our national Government and the unrivalled institutions of the United States. As one whose spirit is fired with an unquenchable love for fatherland and an appreciation of the numberless blessings and advantages accorded us in this the greatest country in the known world, I would wish at least that my fellow countrymen would coolly and dispassionately reason with themselves upon this vital question, and not because they formerly entertained views favorable to Democracy, and were influenced by those into whose atmosphere they may have been thrown, with the false conviction that they were right. I know full well that if Irishmen would only listen to the voice of reason and their own conscience, and not be biased by the machinations of false knaves who seek to divert them from their true interests, no people would more firmly maintain that cause which they believe to be just and honorable.

Shall Irishmen always continue to strive against their true interests and be the willing tools of selfish and designing partisans who would not stop at revolutionizing the country in order to achieve their sinister objects and carry their base designs into effect, and who are ready to sacrifice the dearest aspirations of the United States to their demoniac projects and allusions? Are you going to prove to the universal world who are silent spectators at this moment of the action which Irishmen take in this unsettled state of the country that you are unworthy of your adopted country and the prestige purchased for you in the blood of your heroic countrymen? That lawlessness and disaffection to the best government on the face of the earth's surface, are qualities inherent in your natures, handed down to you by that infamous traitor Dermont MacMurrough who seceded from his lawful government and invited the treacherous and grasping English to his assistance, which villainous and traitorous act has entailed endless woe and desolation on our unfortunate country ever since? And this is exactly what the South had done in the late rebellion and are still aiming at. Let Irishmen establish the fact that they are possessed of a true idea of the demands of the times, and that they can distinguish truth from error and right from wrong, and if among our American brothers party differences should exist let us boldly and firmly step into those ranks, no matter by what name they be known, who have thro' rivers of blood sustained the honor of the national flag untarnished and unsullied. Sympathy for the people of the South is the only quality by which any of our countrymen could palliate the Southern rebellion, for Irishmen are always ready to extend aid and succor to any suffering people, but in this instance it had been caused by rebellion against their lawful government, and when a refractory child raises his hand against his parent he has every right to be chastised and brought to subjection. Arise then in the name of those whose bones lie bleaching upon Southern battle fields and whose shades call upon you to vindicate the honor of the national banner (which they so fearlessly battled for) and stand by the Union Republican party.

Free trade would be established in the event of national success by the Democratic party, which is a terrible national evil (to speak of itself alone) affecting our mechanics and laborers principally, and which would be more advantageous to the English nation than any measure we could adopt. In less time than we anticipate, when reason shall have taken the place of political excitement, our country will once more become as she had been—a great, glorious and united people.

IRISH AMERICAN.

Democratic Misrepresentation.

A specimen of the "pabulum" furnished to Democratic audiences by Democratic orators is shown in a speech delivered by Horatio Seymour at Bridgeport, Conn., during the recent campaign in that State. He said:

The war ceased nearly four years ago, and yet it will cost this year more than $150,000,000 to maintain an army to keep the people of the South in subjection—a people that ought rather to be helping us to bear the cost of governing the nation. [Applause.]

In the course of the same speech he added that of $400,000,000 raised yearly by the Government from the people, "$300,000,000 a year have been wasted in order to uphold this (the Congressional) policy of reconstruction." Now there is no man of moderate intelligence who does not know that this is a gross misrepresentation of facts, yet it is published with commendations in Democratic newspapers as an illustration of the maladministration of the Republican party. The interest on the public debt created by the rebellion, fomented and encouraged by Gov. Seymour and his friends, alone amounts, in round numbers, to $130,000,000 annually in addition to the ordinary expenses of the Government. On the other hand, the estimates of Gen. Grant for the expenses of the War Department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1869, was $77,000,000, but this was reduced by the Army Appropriation bill now pending in Congress and certain of passing both houses, to less than $33,000,000. This includes the estimates for the Freedmen's Bureau, the Engineer Corps, and for sustaining a large force on the Western Plains, and is only a little more than one fifth the amount stated by Mr. Seymour. Such misrepresentation of the plainest facts may be necessary to sustain the cause which Mr. Seymour advocates, but they would hopelessly disgrace any respectable party that should choose to indulge in them.

The New York World mourns over the loss of the Legislature in Connecticut, notwithstanding its success on the Governorship. If by "colonizing" a few Democratic wards in Hartford and New Haven the Democracy were able to outvote the legal voters in other parts of the State, and foist a State Administration upon the people not of their own choosing, the World should be satisfied, and the less said about the matter the better. Nothing is more evident, from the recent result in Connecticut, than that the majority of the legal voters are opposed to the English dynasty.

The total eclipse of the sun which is to take place on the eighteenth of August next, will present such a long duration of darkness that astronomers are anticipating it with unusual interest. From near Aden, the central line of the eclipse extends to the southern coast of New Guinea, crossing Hindoostan, the Bay of Bengal, the Malayan peninsula and the Gulf of Siam on the way, and at certain places on this line the duration of total darkness will be six degrees forty minutes. English and French astronomers are making preparations for observations in the track of the eclipse.

THE HEIR TO THE FRENCH THRONE.—On the 17th of March the Prince Imperial entered upon his thirteenth year, and has now only four years to run before his legal majority. On the 17th every school in Paris was out at play. The army was not forgotten to be propitiated. Punishments were remitted, rations and wine increased and decorations distributed. He is growing a fine tall boy, with wonderful manners for his age, and very attracting and engaging, from inheriting most of his mother's charms and grace of bearing.

According to the latest published statistics the order of Jesuits comprises 8,168 members, of whom 1,588 speak the Italian language, 2,122 French, 2,111 the various tongues of Northern Europe, 1,140 Spanish, and 608 English. The entire order is distributed into twenty-one provinces. From authentic records it appears that there is an increase of nearly 100 members yearly. Those on missions all over the world are 1,358.

Judge Nelson vs. William Wirt

A Washington letter gives the following:

The trial, with the exception of the speeches of Butler and Curtis, has thus far been the contrary of memorable. I doubt that in the history of great trials there are two such crude speeches as [illegible] of Nelson and Logan. Some others are not a great deal better. The public mind is positive about this removal, but not excited; the orator therefore ought in reason properly to be reasoning, not furious invective. As Johnson is incapable of being a hero he is equally beneath being a monster. Fiasco is his destiny.

I shall not make any laughter at the expense of old Judge Nelson of Tennessee, because everybody else will save me that trouble. His speech was simple, crude and native, highly wrought without any knowledge of the world of human nature, pitched upon the key of Peter Parley's Histories or Doctor Dick's essays on Christian Science, and it affected the Senate very much like a revival sermon in an Executive Session. His poetical quotations were frequent, and of a common place extravagance. The Judge had taken for his model the bathetic harangues of William Wirt, so popular in school books. He made a Blennerhasset of Andrew Johnson, and the likeness was not appreciable. The address would doubtless have been popular in a country court room of the South, where the imaginations and tastes of men run wild as an old mule in a high wind. But Judge Nelson had no conception of common feeling as to Mr. Johnson. He eulogized those parts of his career which it was the object of the President's counsel to have concealed from the Senate, and instead of laboring to save his client a position, he attempted to vindicate Mr. Johnson's whole political career.

These things being said, it is also due to Mr. Nelson to add that he convinced the Senate of his personal kindness, earnestness and devotion to his client. He praised even Gen. Butler's talent. He gave a touch of religious enthusiasm to his argument by calling on God to befriend Andrew Johnson as he passed through the furnace. At this, Senator Vickers of Maryland, a soft hearted old gentleman, ran over at the eyes and puckered up. Mr. Nelson cited a passage from Madison, and a case or two by way of precedent, to good effect.

He is a lame man of the middle size, full of "habit"—which means body, I suppose,—and his face is pock marked badly. His head is round topped, he has a good forehead, and he wears spectacles and chews tobacco. This tobacco runs over at all corners of his mouth, in the midst of his gushes of poetry, and he wipes it away with the back of his hand, to the disgust of the poet's ghost. There is no beard on Judge Nelson's face, but his head is full of grayish white hair, smooth, short and straight. The pock-marks pit his chin, his nose and his forehead. He almost looks to be pock marked in the eyes. He wears a loose collar, and a big handkerchief tied under it in a knot as big as a pair of plantain leaves. Stooping forward a little, round shouldered, speaking in a high key, rapidly, spittingly, thunderously, his address reminds you of a six inch gun firing blank cartridges to thrill deaf men. His hand is in the air a good deal of the time, he throws his shoulders back and hurls a wad of conviction at some head that would resist a common ball. For the Chief Justice he has great respect, and argues with him eye to eye, in such artless earnestness of small ethics that Justice herself wants to duck her head to hide a smile. Reverdy Johnson encourages him immensely by asking the page of a certain authority, and making a note of it. At this he gathers himself up and clucks a whole armful of Young's Night Thoughts into the thickest group of Senators. He conjures them, invokes them, butters them, worships them. He says, for a silent climax, "Who is Andrew Johnson?" Alas! Everybody in the Senate knows too well. He might as well have called up the ghost of Job, or Jonah, or John Tyler to affect men's reverences. When the old man concluded, he asked in so good and gentle a way if the Senate would allow him to thank them for their kind attention, that we all wished it were possible to have commended his effort. I was glad to see that General Sam Carey had the moral courage to go up alone and congratulate Nelson.

But that may have been because Carey follows that kind of oratory.

Judge Nelson's appearance among the President's counsel was injustice to himself and a dreadful wound to the amour propre of his colleagues. I believe the latter to be chivalrous lawyers, who felt more for the old gentleman than for themselves, but in so extraordinary a case, where the old country is in semblance looking on, they must have felt that they were earning their fees. When you walk down Fifth Avenue with your grandfather, who eats peanuts on the promenade and hitches up his suspenders at the public door of the hotel, and asks the magnificent hotel clerk if he can't knock a quarter dollar a day off the bill, you recoil though the intentions of your grandfather may have been the best. These city lawyers felt as if Gen. Jackson's old boots had been associated with them in the defense. Curtis sat with a petrified eye, suffering incredulous martyrdom. Groesbeck vanished from the face of nature and was reported to have hidden in the Capitol bakeries. Stanbery was telegraphed to thank God he was sick. Evarts appeared at the gallery door now and then biting all the blades out of his penknife. But Andrew Johnson had meant this speech of Judge Nelson to be his great vindication before the people, and he was sitting up in the White House, saying, "this will reach the people and make the Senate shake!"

WANTED A KING.—The Richmond Enquirer and Examiner sets up a new political platform—it wants a king. Moreover it desires a foreign prince to act as king, and found here a loyal line. It was thorough bred royal stock:

"It is obvious that henceforth the Government of the United States is to be infinitely less propitious than a hereditary monarchy, with a dynasty selected from some thorough bred royal stock."

"For the South, it would be Heaven's mercy if United States had already a king, of the breed of kings, in preference to the present abomination."

"Suppose we had for king such a man as the Mexicans massacred because he was too good for them, instead of such astonishing contrasts as Stevens and Butler! Maximilian showed himself every inch a true prince. * * * * The reign of such a prince in the United States would be to the South the dawn of a millennium compared to the tyranny which now at once disgusts and destroys us."

"If the revolution may not tread backwards—and we admit that it is a rare thing for revolutions to retrograde, then let it speed onward to its only alternative goal! Bring on the king."

If those wretched Mexicans had not shot Maximilian it might be possible for the Enquirer to persuade some little prince out of work to come and rule over us, after the beautiful fashion of Belgium and Greece, which it cites so approvingly. But we fear the uncomfortable end of Maximilian has prejudiced the royal highnesses of Europe against American republicans and they will refuse to come over here to civilize us at the bayonet's point. It is a great pity, for we agree with the Enquirer, that if we are to have a king we should get thorough bred royal stock. "'ef you hab a 'ting' hab a 'ting'" was the sound maxim of an [illegible] Virginian, whose wisdom the Enquirer has evidently profited by.—N. Y. Post.

GENERAL BUTLER.—Wendell Phillips, in a recent letter, speaks of General Butler's conduct in the impeachment case as follows:

Without reflecting on any other Managers, since all have done and will do their duty, the nation, up to this hour, thanks General Butler for the success of the impeachment. His vigor, skill, tireless energy, unequaled ability, have carried it on. After standing that one immortal hour in the breathless Senate Chamber, and seeing the four ablest lawyers Johnson could summon, entirely cowed, disconcerted, appalled, silenced by his skill—sitting in mute bewilderment—he needs no word of praise. That scene, unparalleled in judicial annals, must be testimony enough to his ability.

Having lost a good deal of money at the Jerome Park races, George Francis Train shouted out: "I'll bet five to one I am the biggest fool in the city or county of New York." After repeating the challenge several times, a man standing on the course with a port monnaie in his hand said: "Halloo, I'll take that bet, provided your name isn't George Francis Train."

Further of Joe Smith's Greenback Swindle—How Mr Parrish got Even.

When Joe Smith, Grover & Co swindled Mr Parrish out of seven hundred dollars by paying him in greenbacks, he admonished them that he intended to get even if it should take him ten years.

After a while the company began to dig the water race for their grist mill. Mr. Parrish walked out one fine morning, took an observation of the lay of the land, and discovered two lots which didn't appear to be of much value to anybody. He purchased and paid for them right away. Pretty soon the surveyors and ditch-diggers brought up against Parrish's lot.

The astute Joseph and his friend Grover held a council of war. They surveyed above and they surveyed below the hill. They walked hence and they came back. They went round and round in a circle; but their combined genius couldn't make water run up hill! Parrish said he didn't want his lots cut up and spoiled by a mill race, he hoped they would find some way round; they might go through the street, if they had a [illegible], so they kept off his valuable property.

At length Smith and Grover [illegible] They were subjugated. Smith, feeling intensely mean on account of the greenback swindle, was deputed to wait on and negotiate with Mr. Parrish. He was bowed with humility. He hem'd and ha'd, and showed a disposition to go to prayers.

"H-o-w much would Brother Parrish-ah take for the water privilege [illegible]" and Brother Smith groaned in spirit.

Brother Parrish would take two thousand dollars, seeing it was Brother Smith.

"How much-ah, would Brother Parrish-ah take for the property entire-ah?" and Brother Smith groaned again, like a [illegible] mule.

For the same fraternal consideration, the land owner would consent to [illegible] the trifling sum of three thousand dollars. [illegible] manifesting great travail of soul, and having what Volney called a "mortified countenance," promised to see him again and was going away, when Mr. Parrish said:

"Stop, Brother Smith! Understand. Three thousand dollars cash down in American gold—no greenbacks this time!"

In due time the baffled disciple appeared with the coin, and as he counted down the last twenty, and his bowels yearning after the departed lucre, he said: "There, Brother Parrish-ah, you've made clear two thousand [illegible] off the Willamette Manufacturing Company in a single day-ah." And Brother Smith groaned clear down to the soles of his boots.

"Greenbacks! Brother Smith. [illegible] you won't pick up 'Old Parrish' for a [illegible] again? Remember, Brother Smith, honesty is the best policy-ah!"—Unionist.

Facts for the Working[illegible]

A Connecticut correspondent of the Tribune writes the following. It is well worthy the attention of all workingmen, and is a complete answer to the lying and [illegible] tries of Democratic orators and journalists:

Mechanics and laboring [illegible] are beginning to discuss for themselves the relative merits of the Republican and Democratic parties, and an impartial discussion of the [illegible] that underlie the party of the Union [illegible] A result in large accessions to the numbers of those who already embrace the principles. Four millions of laborers South, if guaranteed protection in the pursuit of their industries, would become extensive buyers of those productions North which tend to the comfort of civilized men, and they will become buyers and will obtain protection in their own [illegible] if the reconstruction policy of Congress is adopted as the policy of the nation. If the colored laborers South, because of the proscriptions and persecutions practiced by their former masters, are forced to leave the old plantations in order to live, where else can they go but to the Northern, Eastern and Western States, in which States, if they do not acquire all that [illegible], they will at least be guaranteed the right to labor. In such an event, the labor market in the free States would become overstocked, wages must necessarily fall, and the only [illegible] benefitted would be the capitalists, who would be enabled to obtain increased help in the workshops and on the farm at [illegible] rates of pay. The laboring population of the North, if they will only vote against the Democratic party for a few times, may avert the [illegible] that threatens to befall the[illegible]selves, and which so many of them—thoughtlessly, no doubt—seem to invite. That emigration from the South would follow the adoption of "my policy" was well exemplified by the conduct of the colored men in Missouri, during a part of the war. The [illegible] of the proclamation of emancipation were denied work by their former owners. Receiving no requital for long years of [illegible] labor, of course they were thrown upon the world helpless. Their late [illegible] refused them work or food, and to avoid [illegible] starvation, large numbers of them left the State, and entered Iowa and Kansas. [illegible] indeed, was the disposition manifested by the freedmen to emigrate, that the military authorities felt constrained to furnish them with means of transportation. These are facts, and the officers and men of the Union army throughout the West are cognizant of [illegible] General Pleasanton does not [illegible] of the exodus that took place under his own observation, and attributes it to nothing else than the inborn nature of man to endeavor to secure all the comforts of liberty attainable.

A Slight Mistake

The Democratic leaders started out in the campaign with the assertion that Smith would be elected by two thousand majority. They have been coming down a few hundreds at a time, till in many of their estimates two figures are now quite sufficient to express the majority they claim for their champion. They would come down much lower, only they don't want to carry the positive terms of the equation over to the Logan side. But on election day Logan's friends will make the transposition for them. The Democratic mathematicians who have been forecasting the result are troubled with nightmares of apprehension. Their calculations tell them that the eclipse is approaching. Dr. Cumming had been preaching for ten years that the "Great Consummation," the end of the world, was sure to take place last year, but just about three days before the great collapse was to occur he suddenly discovered that he had made a mistake of a million of years or so in his calculations. The Oregon "Democracy" who have been calculating with such certainty on the translation of Rev. Joseph Smith to the political heaven he is aiming at have made a mistake only equalled by this trifling error of the prophet of the "Great Consummation."

There is talk of a new Territory. A bill is now pending in Congress to consolidate the Choctaw, Chickasaw, Creek, Cherokee and Seminole nations into one Territory to be called Aklahoma, of which the Superintendent of Indian Affairs shall be Governor ex officio. The Territory is to be a miniature United States with an Executive, a Congress and a Supreme Court. The several nations will be represented in this Congress, as our States are in the Federal Congress, thus securing to each nation their local laws and government. The Territory is to be open to immigration in five years. The Indians are said to be in favor of the immigration of whites. There are about 7,000 negroes among them, formerly their slaves, and these negroes are the principal obstacle to the proposed reconstruction of the Indian nations—the Indians "having a prejudice against the inferior race," while Congress demands that the Indians shall treat the negroes, as to legal rights, as "men and brethren."

A fact has lately been brought to light which illustrates what "Democracy" was in 1861, and which may materially help Horatio Seymour to lose the "Democratic" candidate for the Presidency. A few weeks ago the New York Tribune editorially published a statement that early in 1861 Seymour visited New York city and there met Hon. Charles A. Ruggles of Poughkeepsie, of whom he asked: "Judge, have you read the Confederate Constitution (then recently published)?" "No," replied Judge R., "I have glanced over it, but not read it attentively." "Well," rejoined Gov. S., "I have read it carefully; and it is a better framework of government than our [Federal] Constitution. Now, why not end all our trouble by simply adopting that [Confederate] Constitution?" Seymour has not thought best, though he has had time enough, to deny the accuracy of the report of the conversation, and it is presumed that he regards it as so much personal capital, and it ought to insure him the united support of his "Southern brethren." However that may be, he is aware that a denial from him would be followed by proof of the entire accuracy of the statement.

New York, at the last election, gave forty thousand Democratic majority. It was a "glorious triumph over Radical corruption," shouted the World. Therefore, New York has a Democratic Legislature. And the stench thereof goeth up continually. The dispatches state that members are being indicted for bribery. This Democratic Legislature has been a reproach and swindle upon the [illegible]. When any of the [illegible] organs of this party growl about the alleged corruption of the Republicans, point them to the New York Legislature, show them how the good people of that State are robbed out of sundry millions by Democratic thieves who got into office by calling Republicans corrupt, and ask them if they are not hungry to get their share of the plunder.

The Union Convention of Linn county which met at Lebanon on the 20th inst. made the following nominations: For Representatives, H. Payne, J. Balch, G. W. Richardson, W. J. Mathews and Jos. Pearl; for County Judge, James Elkins; for Treasurer, L. E. Wheeler; for School Superintendent, S. G. Irvine; for County Commissioners, J. McCoy and H. M. Brown; for Assessor, D. Andrews; for Surveyor, J. A. Warner. D. Mansfield having announced himself an independent candidate for County Clerk, and Harvey Smith being in the field for Sheriff, no regular party nominations were made for those offices.

A GOOD THING.—When Ben Hayden, after his long trip to the bunch grass country, returned much emaciated to the Dalles, he was met by a brother Democrat who invited him to partake of his bounteous hospitality. Said Democrat being rather more cleanly than most of the species, offered Ben soap, water and towels. Ben was not much used to those things, but when he shed his filthy nether garments, his kind host sententiously remarked that "that was the best thing Ben had got off East of the mountains."

It is stated that the White House was robbed of a quantity of silver plate lately. The chief butler declined to make any complaint to the President so that the thieves might be prosecuted, as he was convinced that they only wanted to test the constitutionality of the laws against theft which he thought they had a perfect right to do.

The man who does not admit that all the woes of the rebellion are but the natural fruits of Democratic treachery and baseness is either a stranger to truth or has lived and read to no purpose.

No Inconsistency

Just two years ago the Herald charged that the Radicals in Congress were [illegible] pretext for forcing negro suffrage on the South. We denied this statement in the following language:

The Herald impudently lies when it says Congress proposition to secure suffrage to the negroes in the late rebellious States had been agreed upon in caucus. The fact is [illegible] proposition has been rejected by the Reconstruction Committee, it being agreed that the question [illegible] should be left to the States [illegible] members of Congress have repudiated the negro suffrage idea at several different times during the present session. The Union party [illegible] States has repudiated [illegible] party [illegible] negro suffrage.

Two or three times lately the Herald has published this extract for the purpose of showing our inconsistency. We [illegible] and shall prove that every statement [illegible] in the extract quoted was strictly true.

At the time referred to, May 20, 1866, the proposed fourteenth amendment to the Constitution was under discussion in the Senate. Sumner wanted to offer a clause [illegible] suffrage to the blacks. This proposition was rejected, and the fourteenth amendment to the Constitution, in the shape in which it now stands, leaving to each State the right to regulate the suffrage for itself, was adopted. This action took place in the Senate on the 8th of June, 1866.

For a year Congress endeavored to get the rebel States to "reconstruct" on the basis of this amendment. All these efforts failed. That body was extremely reluctant to resort to other methods. It was unwilling to force negro suffrage on the South and hesitated during this long period to adopt that measure. The matter came before the Reconstruction Committee, but the proposition was rejected. Congress preferred to wait and see if the rebel States would not accept the proposed amendment, which would leave the question of suffrage to the States respectively. But finding that reconstruction could not be secured in any other way, Congress at last passed an act granting the suffrage to the blacks of the rebel States. This act was passed in March, 1867, almost a year after the extract which the Herald makes from the OREGONIAN was written. It was a measure not of choice but of necessity. We therefore repeat that the Herald impudently lied when it asserted in May, 1866, that Congress was seeking a pretext to enforce negro suffrage on the South. The history of the whole matter shows that such a pretext was never sought, but that Congress endeavored to avoid the act and repeatedly rejected it, but was compelled at last to adopt it as the only way to secure the restoration of the Union on a basis that would prevent such rebels as A. H. Stephens and his followers from obtaining control of the Government.

The action of the Union party in abolishing slavery illustrates its action in establishing equal suffrage in the South. In 1861 the party protested that it had no design of abolishing slavery. Abolition was then an odious word. But in 1862, finding that the Union could not be preserved without putting an end to slavery, the Union party declared that slavery must be abolished. This was the result of inevitable overpowering necessity. So in 1866, the Union party declared that it had no desire to give the blacks of the South the elective franchise. But in 1867 finding that the restoration of the Union could not be accomplished without it, Congress was compelled to give the Southern blacks the right and power to vote. One great difference between the Union and Democratic parties is that the former recognizes the march of events and is not disposed to think that because a thing existed before the flood it should therefore exist without change forever, while the latter, controlled by Silurian fossils and "Conservative" mummies, is always whining and sighing over the past, anxious to get back to the days when the true sign of Democratic gentility was the ability to own and the right to flog a "nigger."

For some time the Copperhead organs have been opening their chicken coops and bringing out all their dunghill roosters to crow over petty "Democratic gains." We admit that during the last few years there have been Union losses. The heaviest occurred at Shiloh, Gettysburg, Stone River, Chickamauga and Andersonville. The totality of such "losses" would foot up something near half a million.

W. L. Adams, Esq., formerly Collector of the port of Astoria, called on us this morning on his way overland to the Eastern States. Mr. Adams reports the whole Willamette valley as almost a unit for Hon. Joseph S. Smith.—Columbian Press.

Mr. J. Gaston of this city has in his possession a letter from Mr. Adams in which this item in the Press is alluded to, and the statement made in the last sentence pronounced wholly untrue. Mr. Adams further states that he met the editor of the Press after the item was published and called his attention to its untruthfulness. Copperhead editors are in a bad way for materials to keep up the courage of the "Democratic masses."

A correspondent at Umatilla writes that as Tumble-Bug Ben was going from the hotel to the Court House at that place to make a speech in behalf of a "white man's government," he was beset by a troop of Chinamen who "struck" him for a job of washing, and who plied him with such importunity that the great unwashed was forced to put himself under the protection of a crowd of his friends at Bascom's.

Before the late election in South Carolina the Democrats sent out appeals to the colored voters to try to convince them that their interests were inseparably bound up with the Democratic party. How does this agree with the received Democratic theory in Oregon? What is to become of the party if they can't agree upon the subject which forms their whole stock in trade?

The Unionist of Tuesday says: "The Ratification Meeting last night was an immense and enthusiastic affair. Judge Boise delivered one of the ablest and most interesting speeches that we have heard in Oregon. Cannon were fired in the evening, and in all respects the demonstration was worthy of the occasion."

The Record says that, should copies of the Herald be preserved, as from curiosity they may, Oregonians yet unborn may compare the recorded history of Grant with the vile falsehoods concerning him, to wonder that their fathers permitted such a defamer to carry on his infamous trade.

Beriah thinks General Grant isn't fit to be President. Andrew Johnson thinks so too. Both object to him on the same ground, viz: That he is coarse, drunken, treacherous, illiterate and boorish! Weighty objections expectorated, hiccoughed, eructated from such truly Democratic throats!

The Copperheads will not dare to reaffirm the time honored (secession) principles of their party in their national platform. The platform which they will construct will most certainly offend nobody, and sink its occupant 'neath an overwhelming storm of ballots for GRANT.

Copperheads are extremely hard to please. They denounce Grant because of his alleged drunkenness, and are firmly attached to Johnson because he is never sober.

LETTER FROM WASHINGTON

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

WASHINGTON, Monday, May 4, 1868.

The interest in the impeachment proceedings increases as the trial draws to a close, and the demand for tickets is as great or greater than a month ago. The galleries were crowded to their utmost capacity every day last week except Saturday, the day on which the closing part of Stanbery's speech was read, when there were a good many vacant seats. Among the noticeable visitors were [illegible] Sickles, Anthony Trollope the English author and several of the Foreign Ministers. The first business in order on Tuesday was the consideration of the order submitted by Senator Sumner on Monday providing that in case of a division a majority of the Senators shall determine any question that may arise before the judgment. It was laid over till after the close of all the arguments. Manager Williams then finished reading his speech. After [illegible] Evarts asked leave to reply to some remarks made by Nelson in reference to the Alta Vela affair. Nelson charged in his speech that Jerry Black withdrew from the case because the President refused to send a vessel and take possession of the island of Alta Vela now held by St. Domingo, but claimed by a Baltimore firm for which Black & Son are the attorneys, and he [illegible] charged that Butler and several others of the Managers signed a paper for Black after the commencement of the impeachment trial, for the purpose of intimidating or forcing the President into compliance with his demands. Butler explained that the paper was not signed at the time stated nor for the purpose charged, and went on to give Nelson a good wholesome lashing, whereupon the latter got very angry, and in attempting to reply so far forgot himself as to hint at a duel, for which he was called to order, and subsequently Senator Sumner offered a resolution of censure, which was voted down. A little before three Mr. Evarts commenced his speech in defense of the President and spoke nearly two hours when the Senate adjourned.

On Wednesday Evarts continued his oration and managed to speak all day without reaching [illegible] point at issue.

He continued in the same strain all the next day, making a polished oration to crowded galleries, frequently provoking laughter by his sallies of wit and sarcasm, but adroitly shunning the real points at issue. When he gave way to a motion to adjourn without finishing his remarks many persons began to wonder if he might not [illegible] the remainder of Johnson's term in concluding his argument.

He resumed again on Friday, and concluded at three o'clock after having spoken four days in succession. As a fine display of words his speech was a success as might have been expected of the most brilliant and accomplished advocate in America. Unlike the Managers who have preceded him Evarts' speech was delivered orally, his only [illegible] writing being occasional reference to letters and documents. He is a small, spare made man with a thin visage and sharp shrill voice, which is neither musical nor very eloquent. At the conclusion of Evarts' speech, Stanbery made his appearance for the first time in several weeks, and commenced reading his argument, or apparently speaking from memory, without reference to the printed page.

On Saturday, Stanbery resumed his speech but being too feeble to proceed it was read by a clerk until within a few minutes of the conclusion, when Stanbery again resumed and closed a little after [illegible] o'clock. This being the last argument on the side of the President, the Senate adjourned over till Monday.

To-day the galleries were crowded with the largest and most brilliant audience which has been in attendance since the trial commenced. Every seat and all the aisles between the seats and every corner where a person could stand was crowded with an audience eager to hear Mr. Bingham, Chairman of the Managers, open the closing argument in the case. So great was the anxiety to hear Bingham that every means which ingenuity could devise was resorted to in order to gain admission. The rush for tickets was greater than on any former day, and hundreds waited for hours at the outside doors after the tickets had all been exhausted.

The Senate was called to order by Mr. Wade at 12 o'clock. The Chief Justice then took the chair, the Journal was read and the Managers, followed by about one hundred members of the House of Representatives, were announced and took their places in the Senate Chamber. A few moments after 12 o'clock Bingham rose, and amid profound silence commenced delivering an oral speech in a clear, loud tone of voice which filled every part of the vast chamber and with that impetuous manner which holds the undivided attention of the audience. He is argumentative and logical, and at the same time very eloquent. He continued until nearly 4 o'clock when he gave way for a motion to adjourn till to-morrow when he will close the argument. It was one of the most brilliant and eloquent speeches which I ever heard.

On Friday evening, after the impeachment court adjourned, there was a sharp skirmish in the House between the Copperheads and some of the Managers in relation to the Alta Vela affair. Brooks, of New York, offered a preamble and resolution setting forth that the Managers, in signing the paper which asserted the justice of the claim of the clients of Black to the guano on the Island of Alta Vela, had disgraced the House, and asking for a committee to investigate the matter. This roused the ire of Logan and Butler, and they made it lively for Brooks till about 7 o'clock, when the House adjourned, the "gentleman from New York" having decidedly the worst of it.

Reconstruction is progressing rapidly. South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Louisiana and Arkansas have ratified their Constitutions as the telegraph has informed you, and they will be admitted to representation in Congress soon after the impeachment trial closes. Texas, Mississippi, Florida and Virginia have not yet voted. Alabama is the only State which has voted and failed to ratify its Constitution. In that State a majority of the votes cast were for the Constitution but it failed for want of a majority of all the registered voters, many of whom were dead, sick, or absent from the place of voting at the time of the election. H.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The British Benevolent Society gave a grand dinner yesterday in honor of the Queen's birthday.

The Board of Supervisors have appointed a committee to make arrangements for the 4th day of July.

Louis Weinberg sues Abraham Jacobs to recover $10,000 for alleged slander.

The San Francisco and Pacific Sugar Company gave a picnic on Sunday at Menlo Park, to the work people and their families.

Chief Crowley, in view of the recent car accident by which a boy lost his life, has issued an order to arrest all young boys found trying to get on the street cars in motion.

George Rulison was arrested last night while in the act of robbing a saloon.

A [illegible] was shot at by a policeman on Sunday night and was yesterday fined forty dollars for stealing a bottle of soda water.

Official advices from headquarters, Camp Bidwell, Surprise Valley, California, dated May 4th, give the particulars of a fight on April 27th, between a detachment of fifty men from Company G, 8th Cavalry and Company C, 9th Infantry and a party of forty Indians. The fight lasted four hours with a loss of the post guide killed, Lieut. Deaney wounded and private Charles Armstrong, Co. G, 8th Cavalry, shot in the leg. Several of the Indians were killed, but the exact number was not reported.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 26.—The announcement that the Grant and Colfax ratification meeting would be held in this city this evening was erroneous. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, June 2d.

Stock Market

The mining share market this morning was quiet and rather weak, especially at the regular Board. Prices closing generally irregular. Ophir, $10; Gould & Curry, $462 50; Savage, 145; Chollar Potosi, 223; Crown Point, 118 50; Yellow Jacket, 1,175; Imperial, 211; Kentuck, $417 50; Alpha, 79; Overman, $87; Daney, $19 25; Exchequer, $12; Lady Bryan, $29 25; Belcher, $290; Bullion, $51 50.

Produce Markets.

MR. MILL ON THE FINANCIAL COURSE OF THE UNITED STATES.—In a private letter, dated March 18, 1868, Mr. John Stuart Mill (than whom there is no higher authority, and no truer friend of the United States) says:

A breach of faith with the national creditor by the people of the United States under whatever disguise would be in my estimation the most unfortunate event for the morality of the world, and for the reputation and progress of free institutions, which at the present time could possibly happen, and of all modes of defrauding the public creditor that of cancelling the debt by handing over to him a vast quantity of paper depreciated to worthlessness by excessive issue, would be in its practical operation the worst.

BAKER COUNTY.—The Unionist has a letter from Baker City dated May 18th. We quote:

To-day Logan and Smith addressed the people of this place. There is not a Smith man this side of the mountains. The Democracy are badly demoralized. Every Union man is confident of success. The Willow Creek miners are out to a man for Logan. Logan will have a majority here. Almost any man with a cent [illegible] on his [illegible] in this county. [illegible] Messrs. Logan and Smith will go to Willow Creek in the [illegible]. [illegible] Small [illegible] is ours.

Copperhead journals are just now figuring a great deal on what they term the "cost of Radicalism." Wouldn't it be as well for them to employ their mathematical talents in estimating the "Cost of Rebellion" growing out of the application of the time honored principles?

RAPPLEYE'S MAP OF OREGON AND THE TERRITORIES.—Since our first brief notice of Rappleye's map of Oregon, Washington Idaho and part of Montana we have given it a more careful and critical examination, and we find that a much higher praise might be justly bestowed upon it. Mr Geo H Belden the compiler has been constantly engaged upon it since the first of last January, a fact which will give some idea of the immense amount of detail which the map exhibits. Of the authorities and sources of information by which he was guided we may mention the Northern Boundary Commission surveys and notes, the United States Coast surveys, General Land Office surveys, Pacific Railroad explorations and data obtained by replies to circular letters from the General Post Office Department. In addition to these he had nearly five hundred communications from parties residing in various parts of the country delineated upon the map, to whom he had addressed circular letters of general and particular inquiry. The writers of these communications were generally men of intelligence and thoroughly posted upon the matters about which they wrote. By this means Mr. Belden has acquired and has given us upon the map a vast amount of information never before conveyed upon any map, and has laid down as accurate a description of the unsurveyed portions of the country as would seem to be possible. This is especially true of Oregon and Southern Idaho—tracts of country about which all preceding map makers have betrayed a remarkable degree of ignorance. That portion of country lying north of 49° North Latitude is delineated from the maps and data furnished by the Northern Boundary Commission. This embraces the greater part of Washington, the northern counties of Idaho and about three-fourths of Montana, together with the southern part of British Columbia and Rupert Land. The data is strictly accurate and reliable. The Commission's compilation was only completed about a year ago after seven years of labor and investigation, by Messrs. Lemuel D. Williams, Edward Freyhold and Theodor Kolicki, gentlemen who stand among the first draughtsmen of the United States. As their work progressed it was superintended and corrected by such men as Archibald Campbell, U. S. Commissioner; John G. Parke, U. S. Engineer and Chief Astronomer and Surveyor; G. Clinton Gardner, Assistant Astronomer and Surveyor; Joseph S. Harris, Francis Hudson, George Gibbs, Henry Custer and Charles T. Gardner, Assistants to U. S. Boundary Commission. Several of these gentlemen are personal acquaintances and friends of Mr. Belden, and hearing of his intention to compile a map embracing that region, they kindly sent him large photograph copies of all their maps. Rappleye's new map is drawn upon a scale of twelve miles to the inch, a size which admits of as much more minute delineation than does the ordinary maps. Bancroft's new map is drawn upon a scale of twenty-four miles to the inch. Mr. Rappleye says in his prospectus that his map is to be done in "the best style of copper plate engraving and beautifully colored and mounted on canvas and rollers," and we have no doubt but that the work will be done fully up to his representations. He will, in person, attend to its construction, and subscribers may be sure of getting as finished and substantial a piece of work as was ever produced anywhere. We desire, particularly to call the attention of Oregonians to the fact this is an Oregon enterprise; that it has been thus far, and will be in the future, to its completion, prosecuted at great expense, that the publisher cannot feel warranted in finishing the publication unless properly backed by liberal subscriptions. Oregonians should feel pride enough in such an enterprise to give it a hearty and liberal support. It will give Oregon the unquestioned pre-eminence among the map publications of the Pacific coast. The plates from which it will be printed will be owned here and whenever any material improvement can be made, it will be added to all future copies. Mr. Rappleye will canvass this city for subscribers during this week and will then visit the principal towns throughout the valley. The price will be only $12 50—it is richly worth more than that—and all who have any use for a reliable map should place their names upon the list. Let Oregonians buy Oregon productions.

BURGLARY.—Mr E. F. Schrader's saloon, 25 North Front street, was entered by burglars some time between 12 and 4 o clock yesterday morning, by the front door. The rogues—it is presumed that there were more than one—unlocked the door by the use of some burglars tool the marks of which are plainly visible on the brass parts of the lock. Having gained the inside they went round back of the counter and broke the money drawer from its fastenings and carried it off. Fortunately for Mr. Schrader, it contained but a small amount of money—about two dollars in dimes and a dollar or two in small currency bills. They also took the key from the inside of the door and carried it away, leaving the door open when they left. Mr. Schrader was asleep in a back room but heard nothing though it is evident that the breaking of the drawer must have made some noise. He was not aware of the burglary till awakened at 4 o'clock by some [illegible] who, upon passing, found the door open.

BELLIGERENT.—There was considerable angry political [illegible] on the streets yesterday and several persons got excited to pitches of eloquence, both of speech and [illegible], seldom witnessed in our quiet city. On two or three occasions, these wordy skirmishes drew together considerable crowds of people, some anxious to see a fight others having it in view to restore quiet. One fight did occur between a couple of men near the New Columbian Hotel, in consequence of the too personal nature of the argument on either side. One of them, a cripple, received some damage about the face and eyes. We are informed that both the parties were subsequently arrested and held for their appearance this morning, before the Recorder. Afterward, and for some time, a large crowd stood around the entrance of the Recorder's Court, and further hostilities between other parties, frequently [illegible] imminent.

MAN OVERBOARD.—Monday night as the steamer Senator was returning to Oregon City, after the ratification meeting, and when just at the head of the Clackamas Rapids she encountered a number of fishing boats carrying lights. Seeing them bobbing around, Capt Pease, [illegible] something might be wanted, rang the ship bell, whereupon one of the deck hands named Austin, was suddenly aroused from sleep. Running out upon the forward deck to see what was wanted, he stumbled over some obstruction and fell overboard. One of the fishermen, a Kanaka, seeing the mishap, hastened to the spot and rescued the man, who, otherwise, must have been in great danger of drowning, as he was not able to swim.

PICNIC POSTPONED.—Yesterday was the second day appointed by the Washington Guard for their annual picnic. Both times the excursion was spoiled by a rain storm. Yesterday opened with a heavy rain and a strong southerly wind, during the prevalence of which the weather [illegible] closes up. It was evident that to go upon the excursion would result in spending a wet, cold and miserable day, and the Company very wisely decided to postpone the affair till the arrival of a more cheerful day. Of course, many who had been bent upon going, rain or shine, were disappointed. The picnic will come off yet, however, and due notice of the day will be given.

NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS.—We learn that at the annual meeting of the Oregon Central Railroad Company, held on the 26th inst., James W Nesmith, J C Ainsworth, T. R. Cornelius Wm. T Newby and J Gaston were elected Directors for the ensuing year. The new Board has not yet had a meeting, and have not therefore elected their officers. The annual report of the company will be given to the public in a few days. We also learn that the company has decided to locate its Portland depot south of Main street the most liberal offers of aid having been made by citizens of the south end of the city.

ADJOURNMENT.—The meeting last evening at the Council Chamber to take preliminary measures for a celebration of the 4th of July, was very meagrely attended and it was concluded, after talking the matter over, that no great number of people could be got together for such a [illegible] till after the election. It was therefore agreed to adjourn the meeting till Thursday evening, June 4th. At that time, it is hoped, the big agony being over, that a full meeting can be had and that something can be done in the way of preparing for a celebration.

THE MILLENNIUM.—Beecher said a few days ago that when the millenium comes, it will be known by the universal prevalence of sweet pure butter." There are no indications in this quarter of the globe of the prevalence of the millenium, nor that it will begin, on Beecher's terms, within the next thousand years. If that happy period is to be delayed till the disappearance of strong butter, we might just as well consider the Millennium, as a practical institution, sniffed out, and quit talking about it.

ENTHUSIASM—DIFFERENT WAYS OF EXPRESSING IT.—When the Herald says there was no enthusiasm at the ratification Monday evening, we suppose it is simply [illegible] that the crowd was not crazy drunk, nor hideously noisy. To be drunk and disorderly and to howl seems, according to the Democratic idea, to be the only legitimate way of expressing "enthusiasm." In that view of the case, there was some "enthusiasm" in a squad of [illegible] who hung on the rear and the flanks of the procession.

THE CORK-LEG FUND.—A lady left the following note in this office yesterday, with one dollar. "Mr. Editor—If our Savior had not approved the Widow's mite, I could not have made an offering on behalf of Wm Atkins, for [illegible] I enclose one dollar." Beside the above, we received yesterday for the same fund, from "Cash," $5 00 and from "Cash," $2 50. The cork leg fund is swelling. The necessary amount will be raised. Come on with your coins, little or big—they are all acceptable.

OPPOSITION TO NEW YORK.—The North American steamship Co., will despatch their new steamship Nebraska on the 5th of June, for Panama, to connect on the other side with the Santiago for New York. Through tickets to New York and to several European ports at reduced rates. For particulars, see advertisement in this paper.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—Proceedings of Tuesday, May 26th. E. D. Shattuck Esq., was admitted as an attorney.

H. C. Henrichson, a native of Denmark, was admitted to citizenship.

Court adjourned to the 8th of June.

AN INDIAN STABBED.—Indians Bill, Charley and Tom were arrested yesterday on complaint of Indian Jim, charging them with assaulting and stabbing him with knives. Jim bears some evidences of the attempt on the part of his fellow Siwashes, to make him what the Idaho [illegible] would call "a good Indian."

OREGON PRODUCTS.—Arrived yesterday per steamer [illegible], 127 cases and 25 gunnies bacon, 16 hf bbls dried apples, 40 sks flour, 1 bale furs and 15 cases lard.

Per steamer [illegible] 1 154 qr sks flour, 47 cases and 36 gunnies bacon, 14 hf bbls lard, 21 boxes eggs, 8 bales flax, 9 rolls leather and 2 bales furs.

SAW MILL FOR THE RAILROAD.—A portable steam saw mill for the Oregon Central Railroad, east side was hauled over to the machine shop yesterday, and will be immediately put in running order.

TO SAIL.—The steamship John L. Stephens will sail for San Francisco on Thursday, the 28th instant, at 6 o'clock P. M.

ORDERED TO SITKA.—Battery F, Captain McGilvray and Lieutenants [illegible] Crawford and [illegible], is ordered to Sitka and will embark on board the steamship Active on the 1st of June for the Straits of Fuca. We are informed that the troops will then be transferred to a clipper, chartered to take them to their destination.

SPEAKING AT EAST PORTLAND.—Mr. W. D. Hare of Washington county will address the Grant Club and citizens of East Portland this evening. Mr. Hare is an effective and interesting speaker, and the east side should not fail to hear him.

TAX SALE.—The tax sale of Real Estate for taxes of 1867, was postponed for one week, to wit: until Tuesday, June 2d, 1868 at 10 o'clock A. M.

THE BROADWAY STYLES OF PLUG HATS received per last steamer and for sale by L. A. Dix, 101 Front street.

TO THOSE IN WANT OF PICTURES we would say that now is a first rate time to visit Buchtel's Gallery where the latest and finest styles may be had. J. H. Montgomery, Operator.

A STREET SCENE.—A gentleman was walking down Front street yesterday very finely dressed, wearing a Ventilated Straw Expert Hat, which suited his style of dress first rate. A man from the opposite side approached him asking "Sir, may I ask where did you get your hat from? I wish to get one just like it." "I bought it of Meussdorffer. I have bought my hats of them ever since I arrived on the coast, first in San Francisco then my business took me up to Marysville, where I got my hats from the branch of their store there, never charging me anything for such a little job. Finally I went to Sacramento where I purchased the hat of Meussdorffer which I wore yesterday. Last steamer brought me up to Portland and finding my silk hat was too heavy to wear during the hot weather so I was compelled to call on Meussdorffer again and got this hat. I came very near purchasing three hats, for he had so many different styles that suited me it was hard to say which I liked best. I would advise you to call on him soon for he said he had only a few dozen left." The gentleman immediately started for Meussdorffer's Hat Store.

THE "MARTYRDOM" OF PENDLETON CONCEDED.—A correspondent of the Cincinnati Star of the West, a reactionary peace organ of the most ultra character, in an article on the Presidency, concedes the defeat of Mr. Pendleton, if he should be nominated, as follows:

Gen. Grant, according to present appearances, will be the candidate of the Republican party, and you and I agree that, as the case now stands, he will be elected. The fact that there is scarcely any competition for the Democratic candidacy—that to the worthy gentleman who was first named in connection with the Presidential office has been almost universally conceded the honors of the anticipated martyrdom is proof of the opinion prevalent in the party as to the chances of success. This, of itself, is a presage of defeat, and coupled with the fact that few who comprehend the condition of things and appreciate the spirit by which the party in power is actuated, believe that even were a regular candidate of the Democratic party to receive a majority of the electoral votes, he would be allowed to take his place as President, the discouragements are so great and palpable as to give a character of utter hopelessness to the enterprise.

C. H. McCormick, Esq., returns the largest income of any one in the county or city of Chicago, and it is the only one that exceeds $100,000.

Dutcher's Lightning Fly-Killer.—THAT PEST OF SUMMER huge black swarms of flies can be got rid of cheaply and easily by the use of the above popular article, which has an enormous sale at the East and is now for sale by dealers everywhere.

Coel's Patent, patented Dec 4, 1866, the improvement of which consists in lining the entire concave surface with fine gold. It not only makes the plate double as strong and cleanlier than the common Vulcanite Plate. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter, whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.

A THRILLING INCIDENT
In the mission life of Mrs. Ingalls in Burmah, is well told in the "Baptist Mission," relating how she was sent for to visit one of the Buddhist high priests, who had been nearly killed, and how, while in the most holy place in their temple, where none but the priests had ever before been admitted, she was permitted unrebuked to use for him the sacred vessels which none but the high priest dare touch, and to even overturn and sit on one of their gods to rest, all through the magic influence of the Pain Killer, called by them the "fire medicine," so successfully had she used it in curing their many diseases, some of them considered before fatal in that climate, among which were cholera, liver complaint, dyspepsia, the bites of venomous reptiles, &c. This speaks volumes for the Pain Killer.—London Times.
Rev. J. J. [illegible] Missionary at Ongole, Southern India, writes: "We find the Pain Killer very highly [illegible], &c., and I cannot very well get along without it."
Rev. I. D. [illegible] Missionary at Tavoy, Burmah writes: "I shall be happy to assist in extending a knowledge of so timely a remedy and effectual." mh5d&w1m

A CARD.
WHEN THE POPULATION OF SAN FRANCISCO increases so rapidly, how is it the number of deaths decreases? Simply because that excellent Tonic, "Lacour's Sarsapariphere Bitters" have been introduced.
Like the lighthouse to the mariner they are the guide to those who use them to outride the breakers of disease in the journey of life.
To them was awarded the FIRST PREMIUM at the late State Fair. The committee highly and especially recommended them for their medicinal qualities.
Their Emblem is a "Lighthouse."
Their Device, "Pro Bono Publico."
Sold everywhere. L. LACOUR & CO.,

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.
HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.
The undersigned who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.
BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS!
A Pure and Powerful Tonic,
Corrective and Alterative, of wonderful efficacy in Diseases of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.
PROTECTIVE PROPERTIES.
Prevents Fever and Ague and Bilious Remittent Fevers, Fortifies the System against Miasma and the evil effects of unwholesome water, invigorates the organs of digestion and the bowels
Steadies the Nerves and tends to Prolong Life.
REMEDIAL PROPERTIES.
Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Sick and Nervous Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constipation, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Sea Sickness, Cramps and Spasms, and all complaints of either sex arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or
PRODUCED BY SPECIAL CAUSES.
NOTHING THAT IS NOT WHOLESOME GENIAL and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element, no fiery excitant; but is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants, with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.
The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated, and the appetite restored by this Tonic and hence it works wonders in cases of Dyspepsia, and in less confirmed forms of Indigestion. Acting as a gentle and painless aperient, as well as upon the liver it also invariably relieves the Constipation superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.
Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits, and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is conclusive and from both sexes.
As a Genuine Tonic HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from old age, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed it operates to re-enforce and re-establish them.
Last, but not least it is the only safe stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acrid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.
SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Col Grenfell

The New York Sun draws the following portrait of the Col. who has been the [illegible] of much sympathy on the part of the Democratic press and whose escape from [illegible] Dr [illegible] [illegible] plot in the [illegible] Col. [illegible] prisoners at Chicago and the burning of the city has [illegible]

He is said to have [illegible] a sportsman [illegible] of capacity with very influential connections in England. When he was under sentence for [illegible] his [illegible] attempt to burn Chicago, even John Bright was induced to write a letter urging him for his pardon. He first appeared at Washington in 1864 in the character of an English officer, who had been led by misrepresentations to serve in the rebel army, and had become entirely disgusted with the Confederacy. He now wished to repair his error, and as far as possible to give aid to the Union cause. Though his professions were not trusted he was not imprisoned, nor were measures taken to send him out of the country, and the next that was known of him he was in Chicago in his true character, that of a rebel agent, and had nearly consummated his plot to release the 10,000 Confederates who were confined as prisoners of war at Camp Douglas, and to destroy the city. He was arrested and tried, and it was then proven that he had been in the rebel service all the time. He was condemned to death as a spy, in accordance with the laws of war, but Mr. Lincoln, whether moved by John Bright's appeal or by his constitutional unwillingness to consent to any man's execution, commuted the sentence to imprisonment for life at the Dry Tortugas. From there he has now escaped to resume his wild and reckless career in some other part of the world. There are few scenes of violence that are not familiar to him and wherever there is a civil war he is drawn to it as by a natural attraction. We believe that he has been a soldier of fortune in South America and in Spain, that he has borne his part in [illegible] the now extirpated Riff pirates, has served as a Bashi Bazouk in Turkey, and he has fought for the cause of slavery and secession in the South. We shall probably yet see him figuring as a General in China and Japan; but in whatever quarrel he engages, unless [illegible] accident prevents, we may be sure that his sword will always be drawn in support of the wrong side.

[illegible] of a Sea Unicorn in a Ship's Bottom. [illegible] the ship Pocahontas now in port, part of the horn of a sea unicorn [illegible] projecting outside of the copper on the starboard side of the keel about [illegible] on the larboard and a few feet [illegible] section. The plank was cut [illegible] when it was discovered that the [illegible] entirely through it between the [illegible] and was imbeded about three inches in the ceiling. The whole length left in the ship was about twenty inches, but the end or tip of the horn had to be broken off in the ceiling to admit of the plank being cut out. The horn is tough elastic ivory, seven and a half inches in circumference outside and five inches inside of the plank. It passed through obliquely from forward at an angle of about seventy-five degrees, the plank is of sound, hard Southern pine, four and a half inches thick, and when in its place was covered with yellow metal and felt. The force to drive the horn through so far must have been very great, when called to mind that it was exerted from below. The section containing the horn, as cut from the ship, is now in the Mercantile Marine Insurance office in State street. The sea unicorn is known in natural history as the narwhal, a cetacean mammal of the genus monodon, frequenting the Arctic seas, and occasionally straying to Northern Europe. It is about sixteen feet long in the body, with a horn varying from six to ten feet outside of the head. There is no marked separation between the head and the body. The forehead rises abruptly, and the blow-hole is in the top of the head, not unlike that of a sperm whale. The eyes and mouth are small, and the lips unyielding. The caudal is traverse, bilobed, and about four feet wide. Instead of a dorsal fin, it has a low fatty ridge or hump two or three feet long in the middle of the back. It is dark gray on the upper part of the skin, but the sides are white and gray. The Greenlanders are very partial to its flesh and blubber and use its ivory as an article of trade. A famous throne of the Kings of Denmark is said to be made of the ivory of narwhals. The blubber is from two to four inches thick, and yields a highly prized oil. The narwhal uses its horn to break the ice and to capture food. Probably the one which left its horn in the Pocahontas thought itself under a whale and went at her with a rush.—Boston Traveler.

Drunkenness as a Disease.—Dr Parrish of the Media Asylum for inebriates, in Delaware county, Pennsylvania, lately delivered an interesting lecture in West Chester, upon the "Habits and its Laws." We learn from the West Chester Village Record that the leading topic of the lecture was the habit of intemperance, and the question was argued more from a physical than a moral standpoint. The Doctor maintained that drunkenness is a disease, and its victims can no more help it than they can help an attack of the cholera, yellow fever or consumption. This disease may be hereditary, may be implanted by the mother [illegible] administering of remedies to her infant [illegible]. The doctor was down on the profession for prescribing so much alcohol in many of their [illegible]. A great error of the day is [illegible] in which the disease of in[illegible] [illegible] It has [illegible] the very bad habit to de[illegible] as a crime, to rate it among the [illegible] consequently its unfortunate victims [illegible] off from the care and sympathy [illegible] stand so much in need of, and are looked on as only meriting punishment for their crime. This is all wrong. [illegible] public—when temperance reformers look upon drunkenness in its proper light—then the same provision is made for its thirty thousand victims in Pennsylvania that is made for the blind, the crazy or the poor—when the drunkard is taken by the hand, encouraged, sympathized with and made to feel that he is suffering with a disease, and is not a criminal in the eyes of the moral world, an important step will be taken in the true pathway to temperance reform.

"The Uprising for Gen. Grant."—The New York Sun, which has been urging the nomination of Chief Justice Chase, as the Democratic candidate for the Presidency, acknowledges the force of the spontaneous movement for Gen. Grant. It says:

"It is one of the most noteworthy signs of the times that this general uprising occurred before Grant had been definitely named as a candidate by any party—yea, before it was certain that he would be the nominee of any distinct political organization. It is best that it should be thus, for it is the people rather than the politicians who first resolved to make him President. As it was with Gen. Jackson, so will it be with General Grant. All that the Republican party can do after this strong, steady, spontaneous drift of the tide, will be to adopt the popular favorite and float with the current."

Mr. Dixon of Connecticut was elected to the seat in the United States Senate which he now occupies, as a Republican, but swung round the circle after President Johnson. He has now signalized his [illegible] the door of the Senate by entering into the defense of Buchanan's Secretary of the Navy, Toucey, whose disposition of the United States navy at the beginning of the rebellion left the Government in so hopeless a condition.

Lieutenant General Sherman issues a call for a joint meeting of the societies representing the Armies of the Tennessee, Cumberland, Ohio and Georgia in Chicago, on the 15th and 16th of next December. The object, he says, is purely social, and designed to preserve the memories of the war, and to cherish the friendships formed during that period of our national history. All are cheerfully invited to be present and to participate.

[illegible] between England and France across the Straits of Dover seems to be making some progress toward [illegible] of the international bridge are being carried on with great rapidity, and in two months it is hoped that they will be forward enough to permit of some practical experiments being tried.

The Pall Mall Gazette says, in no irony at all spirit, that the Supreme Court of the United States "has come to be recognized even in England as the first court in the world."

Sheriff's Sale.

By virtue of a warrant issued out of the County Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah, to me directed, commanding me to levy upon the goods and chattels of the delinquent tax payers named in the delinquent tax roll, for the year 1867 thereto attached, and if none be found then upon the real property as set forth and described in said tax-list, or so much thereof as shall satisfy the amount of taxes charged, together with costs and expenses, I have this 1st day of May, 1868, (for want of personal property) levied upon the following described pieces or parcels of land as set forth in said tax list, lying and being in Multnomah County, State of Oregon, known and described, and assessed to the parties as follows, to wit:

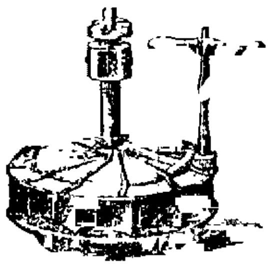
LEFFEL'S
AMERICAN DOUBLE TURBINE

WATER WHEEL



THESE WHEELS, UNEQUALLED AND UNRIVALLED in the United States or the world, have been fully tested on this coast, many being in use at this date, having all kinds of machinery. Saw Mills, Flour Mills, Quartz Mills, Woolen Factories, &c., &c.

CAUTION.

To all whom it may concern: I hereby give notice that the so-called "Shipley's Pacific Turbine Water Wheel" is a direct infringement and copy of the James Leffel's American Double Turbine Water Wheel, and its manufacture and use is hereby prohibited. Any person or persons making, using, constructing or vending said Water Wheels make themselves liable to heavy damages and penalties. Further it is stated will take notice that I shall prosecute said infringements to the utmost extent of the law.

That all may know I mean what I say and am not playing bluff, I give the following extract from a legal opinion on this subject from one of the most eminent Patent Attorneys in the United States:

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 17, 1868.

MR. A. MYERS—In accordance with your request, we have examined the patents of Shipley on Water Wheels, and are clearly of the opinion that they both infringe the Leffel patents. In both of Shipley's Wheels he uses the upper and lower tiers of buckets precisely as Leffel does, and in this he clearly infringes. The fact that Shipley has applied another series of buckets in addition to those used by Leffel does not relieve him from the consequences of infringement at all. He has no right to use those two tiers of buckets, whether alone or with a third or any other number of tiers added. It is a clear infringement. Respectfully yours,
DODGE & MUNN

I hereby give notice that I will prosecute every infringement on our Patents, whether it is the maker, user, buyer or seller. Every infringement, whether our claims are used in whole or in part, will be prosecuted.
A. MYERS

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.
NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES
Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and haggard faces and their broken down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies—see that they are cured for and cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his special study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is as important to those who are afflicted, as to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest this city, puffing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them, nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who will bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places, are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians, in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles, certificates, pretended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 616 Kearney street, corner Commercial, San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.
REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER.
Consultations FREE.

Correspondents will please inform DR. GIBBON that they read his advertisement in the Daily Oregonian.

DR. J. C. YOUNG,
Medical and Surgical
INSTITUTE.

- CONSULTATIONS IN ALL CASES, FREE.
- CURES GUARANTEED, OR NO PAY REQUIRED.
- IN ALL CASES WHERE CONFIDENCE IS REQUIRED THE UTMOST SECRESY MAINTAINED.

The above rules, established by Dr. J. C. Young in 1850, and which have done so much to secure the reputation of this Institute, are still adhered to, affording those in need of medical aid, the certainty of cure and the utmost confidence.

There is nothing of so great importance to the sick as to know where to find a physician whose skill and humanity give assurance of proper and delicate treatment. The Doctor would respectfully call the attention of those of both sexes who are suffering or in trouble to the invariable success that has marked the career of the Institute in the seventeen years of its existence.

It is unnecessary in this connection to enumerate all the complaints treated at the Institute, but the Doctor feels it his duty to call especial attention to that terrible scourge,

SEMINAL WEAKNESS,

That is sapping with its insidiousness the very life of its victims; in the treatment and cure of which the Institute has earned so enviable a reputation.
